WE NOMINATE

George Joseph Cooke Jr., 53-year old educational administrator, who this week—some seven years after he had turned his back on "the peace and quiet of business"—was named Executive Director of the Princeton University Fund, an assignment ranking among the most challenging jobs in the sphere of higher education. In these years of uncertainty, when all privately endowed institutions are battling for survival, Cooke and his associates are concerned with the operation of a complex fund-raising program that must succeed if the essentials of sound teaching and research are not to be eliminated.

Upon his return from World War II, Cooke was undecided as to what the future held, for he wanted to do something more than just make a living. Some one suggested the possibility of applying his knowledge of business, advertising and sales promotion to education. To Cooke this meant fund-raising and he didn't like the idea until he had "sold" himself on the difference between "asking" and "selling a product that is worth everything." Cooke's philosophy has since been a factor in the development of Princeton's Annual Giving Campaign which this year produced some $657,000, the equivalent of a 5% return on $13,000,000 in unrestricted funds.

Twenty years after his graduation from Princeton with the Class of 1922, and following repeated attempts to persuade the Armed Forces that they needed his help, Cooke succeeded in swapping a 57th Street "beat" as a New York Air Raid Warden for an Air Force private's uniform. He celebrated his 42d birthday by gaining sergeant's stripes and during a two-year stint in E.T.O. added technical sergeant's chevrons as well as the Air Medal with two clusters and eight battle stars. While "on the line" in the Mediterranean Area and in England, he finagled gunnery and radio instruction and on D-Day, 1944, was radio operator on the C-47 that landed General Matthew Ridgway in Normandy.

Cooke, now Secretary of his Princeton Class and formerly its Representative on the Graduate Council, launched his business career in his native Chicago and for ten years directed a warehousing firm there. From 1933 until 1940 he was associated with the General Time Instruments Corporation in New York and then moved on to the advertising agency of Roy S. Durstine, Inc. Prior to enlisting, he was an officer of the General Sound Corporation, a radio transcriptions firm, which he served as general manager, treasurer and director.

For dedicating his life to those things he believes in; for providing the kind of leadership which bodes well for the continued success of education's fund-raising efforts; for placing service to others far above service to self; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for April Results, November Races. Princeton Republicans who went into Tuesday's primaries unopposed or who won against members of their own party found out Wednesday morning that they will have unanticipated opposition next November. In fact, in the township, Frederick J. Worthington (who defeated incumbent Bertrand L. Gulick, Jr., 620 to 443) may have a three-cornered battle on his hands.

Write-in votes gave a township Democrat, Richard H. Wood of Mount Lucas Road, the right to qualify for his party's candidate for township committee. Mr. Wood is Director of the Institute of Management and Labor Relations at Rutgers University. Running as an independent on the November ticket will be James A. Arnold, Jr. of Edgerstoune, a staff member of Princeton Surveys.

Mr. Worthington's victory was achieved primarily in the township's second district, where he drew 228 votes to 93 for Mr. Gulick. Mr. Gulick won the first (92-86), but his opponent took the third (109-85) and the fourth (187-173).

Borough Democrats who are expected to qualify for the council race, following the write-in campaign staged under the direction of the new Democratic Club president Dan D. Coyle, are Richard W. Colman of Campbelton Circle and Raymond F. Male of 76 Cedar Lane. Mr. Colman is assistant football coach and a member of the Department of Physical Education at Princeton; Mr. Male, formerly associated with the State Department of Institutions and Agencies, is a personnel consultant.

Mayor P. MacKay Sturges, expected to remain unopposed, polled 696 votes Tuesday. Council president John A. Archer drew 683; his running mate, Walter B Jefferson, Jr., 654

Other results:

Republicans picked Paul J. Troast for governor by a 3-to-2 margin over Malcolm S. Forbes in a seven-man field In reverse ratio, Princeton voted for Mr Forbes by approximately the same margin.

Democrats gave a slight edge to Robert B. Meyner, picking him over oft-beaten Elmer Wene for governor. Mr. Meyner also ran ahead in a light Democratic vote here.

Democratic Freeholders Edward A. Thorne and Robert Costigan overpowered Donald Morrissey opposition candidate, by approximately 5 to 1.

Organization candidate Democrat Thorn Lord swamped his opponent, Nathan Finkle, for state committee, but Mrs. Catherine Farr, Republican running against Mrs. Ann Bowman, the party choice, was beaten. Mrs. Farr's margin in Princeton was 2 to 1 but it was insufficient throughout the county.

County committee candidates Frank T. Germain, Jr. and Richard W. Barger, Jr. won township Republican nominations from Paul S. Smith and Philip Kissam. Their respective margins were 110 to 71, and 108 to 113.

Voting was light everywhere in the borough. It was far over 25% in the township, slightly better than 20%.

"Look Ma, No Hands" The last rule has been started in Princeton Hospital's major moving program as it strives to achieve full service in its expanded facilities. When finished, bed capacity will increase from 89 to 138.

While interior construction goes forward, three of the hospital's busiest departments have been installed in temporary new quarters. The pediatrics department was moved from one floor to another without a break in service; the operating room was dismantled and re-installed elsewhere in the building with a period of but four hours when an operation would not have been possible, and the ever-busy maternity ward was efficiently relocated.

Operations could be briefly postponed, nature could not during the eight-hour period while the maternity ward was being transferred, seven babies were born. All of them reportedly are ambulatory patients.

To the Editors of Town Topics:

I want to congratulate Mayor Sturges and the other borough officials for the outstanding job they did in their "Report to the Citizens."

This takes the mystery out of local government and tells the taxpayer in terms he can understand, what is being done with his tax money. By giving the taxpayer a picture of his government in this ingenious way, the borough officials have struck a strong blow for the cause of good government in our community.

STANLEY C. SMOYER.

Air Raid Test Set. Princeton will undergo a test ten-minute alert between the hours of 8 and 10 Tuesday night, in compliance with a directive from the state Civilian Defense headquarters. Its aim is to evaluate the effectiveness of the civilian defense organization and the community's preparedness in time of need.

Those who are at home when the sirens sound should continue with their normal activities. However, traffic will be halted by regular and auxiliary police and pedestrians will be required to take shelter. Block wardens will be at their posts. Following the ten-minute alert, all auxiliary police

It's New to Us

Little Man, What Now? Denim is the "what oow" at The Junior Shop, 14 Chambers. They have a two-piece denim that he'll wear and you'll wash all summer; in fact, you'll probably buy more than one because they're only $3.95.

Boxer shorts in faded blue, a short-sleeved boxy jacket that buttoos down the front. Jacket has awning-size stripes in faded blue, red and white. For gentlemen sized 4 to 6x.

What could be cooler than seersucker? Or easier to come clean? Short-sleeved shirts in this lazy-mothers' fabric come in tattersalls, candy stripes, plain colors or prints. In the print stack we found tropical ones that look like Hollywood and nautical ones that might be Cape Cod. These are only $1.95 in sizes 4 to 12.

When he peels off that seersucker shirt (and leaves it on the floor, if your young man is like ours) he can step ioto seersucker pajamas. Buy a pair that's nautical (little sailors throwing ropes around) or plain, if he's one of those conservative men.

On these, no buttons, no belts, no strings. Just elastic at the waistband and a neck that's big enough to slip over. For $2.95.

If it's a chilly day, you can suggest that he slip on a slip-on. These sleeveless sweaters—size 4 to 12—are made of a nylon that's guaranteed against what they call "pilling." That means it won't get little wads of yarn all over it. Comes in navy, light blue, yellow or light green, and costs $3.95.

Can he tie a tie? Even if his ties are store-tied he can use a junior tie bar by Hickok. These, for $1.50, are fashioned like ducks, fish, horses, a dachshund, a bunch of keys or a sabre. Good solid jewelry, too—not just a toy.

Does Your Lettuce Limp? Ours does, sometimes, if we're picknicking on a muggy day. To keep picnic lettuce crisp, to keep beer cold and baby's milk sweet, we suggest the use of Icit. (What they mean is "Ice-It." Manufacturers get their phonetics crossed sometimes.)

Icit is on the shelves of Tiger Auto, 26 Witherspoon, and it costs 75c a can. It—and we have no idea what "it" is—comes in a flat pint can like the cans that hold turpentine. You do not open this can. You just stuff it into your ice-cube compartment, set the control at its coldest and wait around, making sandwiches and devilling eggs.

When your picnic basket has been well lined with newspapers (insulation) you take Icit out, put it in the basket and pack food around it. For best results, you should use two or three cans, but if it's a small pack, one will do. Also, you should pack the food cold.

Icit lasts a long time, and can be used over and over again. Just don't open the can. (What do you suppose is inside?)

In the auto part of Tiger, we found Westinghouse's highway safety kit. It consists of a big sign that says "Caution" in scotch light, one sealed beam headlamp, twelve feet of extension cord with cigarette lighter plug. An investment, at $2.95.

On the folder that comes with the Magic Wand Automatic Foam Fountain Brush, they show a fragile housewife washing the family car. We do not wish to take sides on this subject, but if you are the car-washer in your house, you might stop at Tiger and have a look. You put this foaming agent into the hose head and then wash

SIX MEN WHOSE PLAN FOR CONSOLIDATION OF PRINCETON COMMUNITY MAY ALTER THE COURSE OF ITS FUTURE

The Joint Consolidation Committee consists of James A. Perkins, Norvell B. Samuels, Ralph S. Mason, appointed secretary; Charles T. Cowenhoven, Jr., named as the committee's chairman; Raymond C. Bowers and Joseph J. Redding. Mr. Cowenhoven has announced that the committee will invite the advice and assistance of many interested Princetonians in preparation of the plan for possible municipal merger.

will report to Borough Hall for inspection by police chiefs Edward W. Mahan and Gustave Eisenmann.

Jewish Appeal To Start. Irving F. Alexander has been named chairman of the annual United Jewish Appeal campaign in Princeton. Dr. Albert Einstein will again serve as honorary chairman.

Funds are being sought for the three member agencies of the Appeal: the Joint Distribution Committee, the United Israel Appeal and the United Service for New Americans. The money will benefit refugees from lands behind the Iron Curtain, aid Jews in Israel and help to strengthen that new democracy as it serves as a haven for a quarter of a million newcomers from oppressed lands.

Others aiding in the drive are Harry Ballot, treasurer; Mrs. Benjamin Miller, financial secretary; Mrs. Leonard Hymerling, corresponding secretary; Sidney Sternberg, solicitations chairman; Miss Alice R. Braveman, publicity chairman; Mrs. Thomas Stix, Women's Division Chairman. A dinner at the Princeton Inn on May 4 will open the campaign, while the women's division will meet on May 13 at the home of Mrs. Lewis Rakin.

Reader Interest. Thomas A. Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archer M. Vaughn of Penns Neck, has made news in two respects this spring. Serving with the Inspector General Section of Korean Base Section Headquarters, he is completing 20 months in the Army and has been promoted to private first class.

PFC Vaughn also holds the record for long distance response to an advertisement in TOWN TOPICS. In answer to an advertisement in the March 1 issue, he wrote from Korea to ask complete specifications for building a Gunnison Home. His inquiry was answered by Mrs. Marie Memphill of Weathly, Inc., Gunnison agents here.

Faculty Promotions. Four members of the Princeton University faculty were advanced to the rank of full professor at last week's spring meeting of the trustees. Dr. T. Cuyler Young, specialist in Near Eastern Affairs, was named first incumbent of the Garrett Professorship of Foreign Affairs. Associate Professor Alfred Foulet, Modern Languages and Literatures; John Turkevich, Chemistry; and Donald C. Spencer, Mathematics, were also promoted to professorships.

Designated as associate professors by the trustees were Heath Licklider and William F. Shellman, Jr., Architecture; Arthur V. Tobolsky, Chemistry; Frank C. Bourne, Classics; Melvin M. Tumin, Economics; J. Merrill Knapp, Music; and James W. Smith, Philosophy.

Stolnitz, Economics; Richard H. Green and Richard M. Ludwig, English; Heinrich D. Holland, Geology; John T. Tate, Mathematics; Robert Hartle, Modern Languages; and Anthony Chadwick, Religion.

PTA Officers Named. Mrs. Hadley Cantril has been elected president of the Nassau Street School PTA for the next 12 months. Serving with her will be Mrs. John Platten, first vice-president; Mrs. Norman Mather, second vice-president; Mrs. John Arscott, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Rowe, corresponding secretary; H. Philip Minis, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Johnson, chairman of the nominating committee, assisted by Mrs. Walton Butterworth and Mrs. T. Morgan Harris.

The slate was prepared by a committee headed by Mrs. Paul Perry, assisted by Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. William Lockwood, Mrs. Francis Pace and Mrs. Courtland Perkins. By-laws of the association have been changed so that elections now take place in April, giving new officers more opportunity to organize their plans before the school year ends.

YWCA Plans Banquet. The YWCA's annual mother-and-daughter banquet will be held Thursday, May 7, at the Witherspoon Center. Mrs. Peter Gardner and Mrs. Keith Beebe are in charge of the program, while banquet arrangements are being made by Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Mrs. J. W. Fish.

Reservations must be made by next Thursday, April 30. Women who are without daughters and wish to attend are asked to call Miss Hermeles Jones, program director, at the Witherspoon Center.

For Young Musicians. Summer music courses will be given again at Princeton High School, starting June 29. Individual and group instruction will be offered pupils from the fifth to the tenth grades, with vocal classes to be held for those from the eighth grade through high school.

Thomas Hilbish, who will direct the vocal work, and Sylvan Friedman, in charge of the instrumental, are members of the music department in the borough schools. Mrs. Virginia Switten, director of music at the Valley Road School, will also be an instructor in these summer sessions.

Anti-Gambling Drive. Mercer County — and Princeton — will participate in the state-wide ban against all forms of gambling. Scheduled to vanish from the scene, in line with the announcement by Prosecutor Mario Volpe, are bingo

Obituaries

Captain Robert S. Bayer, USAF, 7, of 13 Southern Way, died of a heart attack on April 18. Celebrating his third wedding anniversary at the time of his death, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Longstreth Bayer, and two children.

A member of the Princeton University class of 1939, Captain Bayer had three years of flying experience in World War II. He had planned to leave for Germany on May 15. A service was held at Mather Funeral Home with burial in Huntingdon, Pa.

Mrs. Emily Beagles, wife of the late Samuel Beagles, died April 21 at her home, 25 Lytle Street. Two daughters and two sons survive.

Miss Catherine C. Duggan of 30 Chestnut Street died April 18 in Princeton Hospital. She was a member of the Rosary Society of St. Paul's Church and Court Morna 378, Catholic Daughters of America. She is survived by a niece and two nephews. Requiem high mass was held in St. Paul's Church, with interment in the parish cemetery.

Lewis F. Moody, 73, died April 18 in Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield. He was Professor Emeritus of Hydraulic Engineering at Princeton University and inventor of many improvements in hydraulic turbines, pumps and accessories.

Professor Moody taught at Princeton from 1930 until his retirement in 1948, and had carried on his work as a consultant to the Worthington Pump and Machinery Corp. In 1945 the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia awarded him the Elliott Cresson Medal for his contribution to engineering science. He was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of the American Engineering Society, Franklin Institute and the American Society for Engineering Education. He is survived by two sons, a daughter and a sister. A service at the University Chapel was followed by burial in Princeton Cemetery.

Stephen K. Simmons, 9-year-old son of Commander and Mrs. Kenneth G. Simmons of 40 College Road, died April 16 at Princeton Hospital. A pupil at the Nassau Street School, he is also survived by a sister. The service at The Mather Funeral Home was followed by burial in Arlington National Cemetery.

games, "50-50" clubs, baseball pools, car lotteries and, presumably, off-the-track betting on horse races and the so-called numbers games. The latter are not always admitted by enforcement officials as existing, although there are probably few municipalities of any size in New Jersey where such forms of gambling are not carried out.

In the midst of the sudden clean-up campaign, stemming from the adverse nation-wide publicity that wide-open Bergen County brought New Jersey, a number of paradoxical situations exist. The state legalizes race tracks, takes a huge cut from the betting it encourages each year, but finds off-the track

Pay For Your Heat
The Easy Budget Way

Most families handle household expenses on some sort of budget system — but fuel bills usually don't fit very well into a system . . . Because weather varies, it is hard to know how much a bill will be for any single month. And LARGE bills hit the budget during the midwinter months when the weather is coldest.

The Better Way . . .

We recommend that you pay for oil with our Easy-Budget Plan. It works this way: The amount of oil you will burn in the next heating season is estimated in advance. Next, we multiply this amount by the estimated average price of oil for the next season. Then we divide the total into equal payments which you pay at the same time each month, throughout the heating season year.

Costs Nothing Extra . . .

There is NO INTEREST, NO EXTRA CHARGE of any kind for the Easy-Budget Plan. For the oil you use you will pay the price in effect at time of delivery, just as you now do. You will receive a meter ticket with each delivery showing the gallons delivered and the price per gallon. But payments will be more convenient to make.

More and more families are paying for their oil in this more practical way. If the plan sounds good to you, please let us know and we will gladly put it into effect for you.

betting unlawfol. Other undercover gambling, running into millions of dollars under all sorts of unsavory conditions, is a logical target but illogically classified with it are the harmless, above-board bingo games run by many a church and volunteer fire company.

Miscellany. Sons have been born to Mr and Mrs. James H McKillop, RD 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Burgess, Rocky Hill; daughters to Mr. and Mrs. B. Hoff Knight, Jr., 219-B Eisenhower Street, and Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, 18 Leigh Avenue.

Miss Joyce Myers of Valley Road had her license revoked for 90 days by Township Magistrate Louis R. Gerber, following conviction on a charge of reckless driving on Mount Lucas Road. Borough speeders fined by Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro include James B. Sloan, Canal Road; Kenneth W. Smith, 237 Harrison Street; Salvatore Squitieri, Mount Lucas Road; Mrs. Olive H. Fischer, 173 Harrison Street; Stephen H. Keiunji, RD 3.

Boys who live in Mercer County and who will enter any grade from eight through 12 next fall are eligible to take examinations at the Hun School Saturday morning, with the winners receiving scholarships covering full tuition for day students. Recipients are selected on a basis of financial need, character, academic ability and participation in outside activities. John Beebe and William Rogers of Princeton are among the past winners. Full details may be obtained at the school.

Milk prices will drop two cents a quart next Friday, May 1. Home delivered milk currently costs 25 to 27 cents a quart, depending on grade.

Pupils on the high honor roll at Princeton High School for the third marking period include Susan Sheldrick, Elizabeth Sprout, Carol Stevens, William West, Nancy Conte, Allen Graham, Patricia Nicoll, Patrick Hutton, Edith Kostron and Linda Mondone.

The high school paper, "The Tower," was selected as the best among 28 school papers in the state entered in a contest at Upsala College.

Mrs. Daniel Pierce has been named co-chairman of publicity with Mrs. Oskar Morgenstern for the Social Service Bureau. The Bureau, making plans to observe National Family Week (May 5-10), is currently giving personal and confidential guidance to some 70 Princeton families. To aid in its maintenance of such records, an additional two-drawer filing cabinet is needed and anyone in a position to make such a donation is asked to call the bureau (2098).

The traffic light to be installed at Nassau and Harrison Streets will have a push-button for pedestrian use. Overall cost will be $6,600, with the borough to pay 25% and the State Highway Department the balance

Mrs. Frances R. Norton, formerly of the Floyd S. Clark Agency, has opened her own office for town and country real estate in Belle Mead. It is located in the red office building on Station Square, Route 206.

Guido Tamasi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tamasi of 31 Henry Avenue, has been appointed manager of the Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh. Mr. Tomasi, who has been with the Sheraton Corporation for the past four years, was previously chief steward and catering manager at two Sheraton hotels in New York. He assumed his new duties this week.

The League of Women Voters will hold its annual meeting Monday at 3:30 in the First Presbyterian Church. Officers will be elected, a budget adopted, the bylaws will be amended and the league's program for the coming year will be approved.

Members of Lawrenceville Grange No. 170 will attend the Rosedale Chapel Sunday afternoon at 3:30. The Rev. Samuel Rizzo will be the speaker on the occasion, while music will be provided by Charles Venner.

The new South Brunswick Township Lions Club will receive its official charter this Thursday night in ceremonies to be held at Fowler's Restaurant on the Brunswick Pike. District Governor Edward G. Walder of Atlantic Highlands made the presentation.

Three pre-school clinics for children who will enter the Nassau Street School next September will be held on May 5, 12 and 19. Parents of prospective pupils should make an appointment for one of those dates by calling 1450 and asking for the Nassau Street School nurse's office. The child's birth certificate, evidence of inoculation against diphtheria and smallpox and other information pertaining to the child's health should be presented.

Princeton's Company L of the New Jersey National Guard joined other companies of its battalion last week in a full-dress review held at the Trenton Armory in honor of General Edward Rose. Three officers and 64 enlisted men took part with other outfits of the third battalion of the 114th Regimental Combat Team.

Innocenzo Venta, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Venta of 63 Leigh Avenue, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the United States Army Air Force. He is reported to be greatly improved following a critical gall bladder operation performed at the Scott Field Air Force Hospital, Belleville, Ill.

THREE $64 PLYWOOD ANSWERS

An unsanded construction grade of interior-type plywood is manufactured for sub-flooring, wall sheathing and concrete forms.

Plywood sub-floors—strong, rigid, and firm flatly refuse to cup, warp, shrink or squeak. Keeps out drafts and makes floors warmer.

Plywood for sheathing—builds for strength and stamina. Makes a stronger, tighter, warmer house. Holds nails like a vise. Plywood walls have greater resistance to sagging and settling.

Plywood for concrete forms—plywood can be used for quickly-erected, economical "one use" concrete forms for poured concrete. Can be stripped off easily and reused for permanent sub-flooring or roof decking.

Stop in for additional facts and figures on this economical material. We'll be glad to advise you.

Sports in Princeton

Lions Win. Blowing two chances to sew up the game early, Princeton's baseball team lost its first home Eastern League contest of the season Tuesday Columbia took home a 3-1 triumph, the defeat dropping the Tigers to fourth place in the standings with a 1-1 mark.

The New Yorkers won on the wings of a nine-hit attack that was good for 13 bases and was backed by the 11 strikeouts racked up by winning hurler Jim King. All of the Lion blows were charged to sophomore Dick Emery; two hitless relief innings by Al Bryant came after the damage had been done.

There were times in the first and second innings, however, when clutch hitting and smart base running might well have put the game on the Princeton side of the ledger. Emery was not the pitcher who had whipped Penn and Navy in his last two starts, but a comfortable lead would very possibly have seen him through.

For Other Sports See Page 15

The home team filled the bases with one out in the opening round, but could not score. The first two runners reached second and third in the next frame, but Princeton could push only a single marker across. Gordy Gray tallied on Dick Savage's pop single over second, but Herky Parke was erased when a squeeze signal went badly awry.

That and two strikeouts broke the back of the rally, and the Tigers left six runners in all stranded in the first four innings. Two Columbia errors and two walks during this time helped keep King unsettled but Princeton never got around to giving him the nudge needed to make him a loser.

King allowed only four hits, none after the second inning, and only one Nassau runner reached third in the last seven frames. He had trimmed the Orange and Black, 4-0, a year ago, giving him a record of one run allowed in 18 innings at University Field.

Snow in New York State Saturday turned the team back before it reached Ithaca, a telephone call from Endicott indicating the uselessness of even completing the trip. The game with Cornell will be rescheduled by mid-May provided one of the two contestants still has a shot at the title.

Hun Nine Beaten. Hun School's baseball team was running into trouble from its opponents and the weather man as well. The week's record showed two losses and three postponements.

Bordentown Military pinned the second defeat of the season on the Red and Black, taking a 4-3 contest when Pat Tidey issued a walk in the ninth with the bases filled. Earlier, Tidey had fanned 14.

Princeton High won an abbreviated contest from Hun on Friday, 5-3. The five-inning affair saw 17 walks issued by three hurlers, Dave Maas of the Little Tigers winning as he held the losers to a lone safety. The Hun game with St Benedicts was twice put off by rain and cold, while the Trenton High game was shifted from Tuesday to this Friday.

CHILDREN'S SERIES

Performances this Thursday at 3:30 p.m. and Friday at 8 p.m. of "The Magic Apple" will conclude the Children's Entertainment Series sponsored by the Elementary Schools P.T.A. Mrs. Joseph Haight wrote the play and is directing, while the choreography is by Mrs. Wendell Estey.

Children from the Junior Community Players in speaking parts include: Edward Freeman, Valerie O'Dea, Peter Oppenheimer, Bruce Houghton, Linda McAndrew, Alan and Deane Jensen, Anthony Ross, Karen Peterson, Thomas Hollmann, Susan Scarff, Frances Jackson, Susan Drury, Jonathan Jay, Deborah Smith, Toni Lees, Sallie Mather.

Also, Jane Dorman, Linda Brown, Jeffrey Kay, Tina Van Winkle, Susan Miller, Nora McManus, Kitty Bramwell, Lissy Sherr, Susan Stevenson and Eileen Baker. George Alexander and Mrs. Charles Halcomb have the adult roles.

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Princeton High School will present the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical play "Carousel" on Thursday through Saturday, April 30, May 1, 2, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Tickets may be obtained at Hinkson's, the box office (tel. 1450) and from PHS students.

The first high school group in the country to produce the Broadway success, Princeton is undertaking the ambitious production by special permission of the authors. Thomas Hilbish is the director, assisted by Miss Florence Burke, and choreography is by Mrs. Roy Van Ness.

Heading the cast and chorus for the musical are James Kuist, Jean Smith, Richard Buxton, Susan Sheldrick, Sandra Dinsmore, Donald Smith, Carol Search, Bryce Rittenhouse, Dianne Chase and Robert Stewart. The school choir will form the chorus for the show.

MURRAY THEATRE

The Theatre Intime's production of "The Drunkard" will open next Thursday for a run of ten days, except Sunday. The evening of original one-acters written for the organization's annual competition continues through this Friday evening.

"The Drunkard" is "moral domestic drama" of the type which nowadays begs for a job of polished hamming. The temperance "meller" opened in Boston in 1844. Ben Pitza '55, Adi Dietz '56, Mrs. Georgine Hall, Miss Clare Minton, Mrs. Arthur Groff and Miss Shirley Hartle head the cast.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Moulin Rouge (Thurs.-Tues.) is a brilliant film about the French artist Henri Toulouse-Lautrec. Against a background of Paris of the late 1880's, Jose Ferrer portrays the sad, debased life of the dwarf-sized genius who haunted its cafes and bordellos. Adroitly reduced for this role, Ferrer also plays the painter's aristocratic father.

The film shows Lautrec as neurotic degraded by romance with a streetwalker (played by Colette Marchand), sinking further into alcoholism in an unpretty, honest fashion. Suzanne Flon plays a woman who tries to help Lautrec and Zsa Zsa Gabor is seen as the dancer Jane Avril. Photography in Technicolor and John Huston's superb direction make the film worth its week of playing time, and the advanced prices.

Never Wave at a Wac (Wed.-Sat.) gets away with some sophisticated slap-stick in spite of the title. Rosalind Russell plays a Washington cocktail party hostess who tries to frolic at being a Wac. Assisted by Marie Wilson and Paul Douglas, the wonderful Miss Russell generates some good amusement, if women's service comedies are your dish.

THE GARDEN

Call Me Madam (Thurs.-Sat.). Ethel Merman hasn't changed much since she was here two weeks ago at the Playhouse in the wonderful Irving Berlin-Lindsay and Crouse musical show. Miss Merman really romps at the head of a cast which includes Donald O'Connor, Vera-Ellen, George Sanders and Billy De Wolfe. Topflight Technicolor and music, too.

Anna (Mon.-Wed.) has been built up as a showpiece for the bodily charms of Silvana Mangano, the star of "Bitter Rice." The Italian girl actually plays a nun working in a hospital and said charms are dragged in by means of flashbacks to her past. English dialogue has been dubbed in.

High Noon AND The African Queen (Thurs.-Sat.) should need no introduction. In case you've forgotten, "High Noon" is the excellent Western with Gary Cooper which picked up most of the 1952 critical marbles as did "African Queen" in 1951. Humphrey Bogart and Katherine Hepburn star in an exciting Technicolor river journey.

The double feature set-up will work the way "African Queen" starts the matinee at 2:15 p.m (sic) followed by "High Noon" at 4:12. In the evening it'll be "High Noon" at 7 and 10:22, "African Queen" at 8:25 only.

Musical Notes. The University's Freshman Glee Club will give its annual Freshman Prom concert at 8:30 p.m. this Friday in Alexander Hall. The concert, which is open to the public without charge, will mark the final appearance here of Charles Ludington as a conductor before leaving next fall to become the director of the glee club at Amherst.

The program will include choruses from three German romantic operas by Weber, Beethoven and Wagner, a rarely-performed Masonic Cantata by Mozart, folk songs arranged by Moussorgsky and Vaughan Williams, songs from "The Beggars' Opera" and "O! Thee I Sing," and medleys of college songs.

Serie. Two of the University Concerts will be concluded Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre when the Juilliard String Quartet completes the playing of all of Beethoven's quartets. Tickets at the University Store and at the box office Saturday night.

The program includes the Quartets in A major, opus 18, No. 5; in F minor, opus 95, in B flat major, opus 18, No. 6, and in F major, opus 135. The last of these was Beethoven's final composition in the quartet form. The majestic work was written in 1826.

McCARTER THEATRE

Charles Laughton's virtuoso "performance" of random readings Saturday evening in McCarter under the sponsorship of the Vassar Club of Princeton proved to be a remarkable exhibition of his dramatic power, but his selections varied from magnificent to unimportant and over-long.

Mr. Laughton's reading of the Devil's speech from "Don Juan in Hell" marked the high point of dramatic entertainment. A thundering passage from the Book of Daniel and the whimsical fairy tale "The Emperor's Nightingale" by Hans Christian Andersen set off the tremendous power of variation of tone and volume in the noted actor's voice.

The excerpts from Charles Dickens' "Little Dorrit" were fringly long, and other selections met with varying success. Mr. Laughton's intermittent small-talk was alternately charming and touched with a faint element of condescension.

Regatta on Carnegie. The world's best eight-oared crew will furnish the opposition Saturday in the only home appearance of the Princeton varsity this season. Navy's fine boatload which won the national and Olympic titles last season is back intact save for the coxswain and will race Dutch Schoch's oarsmen at 5 on Lake Carnegie.

The six-race regatta will start at 3:20, with one event to be held every 20 minutes. Princeton's freshman, jayvee and varsity 150-lb. crews will open their seasons against Columbia, while the freshman, junior varsity and varsity heavyweights play host to Navy.

While the middies were trimming Yale by four lengths on the Severn last weekend, Princeton was defeating Columbia and Pennsylvania on the rain-flecked Harlem for its first Childs Cup victory in four years. The Nassau contingent swept the river, the first-year shell winning by three lengths, the jayvees by one and a half and the varsity by two-thirds.

In the climactic event, Columbia led by a deck length for the first quarter mile, was caught at the half-mile mark and had yielded a full length with a mile gone. The Lions, showing better form than they have in several years, closed the gap briefly but the Tiger eight still understroked them and won going away. It was a fine beginning to what promises to be a highly competitive season.

Doubleheader at University Field. Other events this weekend include a baseball - lacrosse doubleheader starting at 1 Saturday on University Field and tennis against Navy on the Church Courts at 2:30. Army will provide the opposition in an Eastern League ball game, with the strong Maryland lacrosse team scheduled to face Ferris Thomsen's ten at approximately 4 o'clock.

your car in ten minutes. Afterwards, you can put on another product: Turtle Wax. Costs $2 a pint and gives your car a hard shell finish.

The Recumbent Prism. Do you read in bed and do you have $14.95? If your answer to both is "yes," go to Stone-Wald's Princeton Gift Shop, 13 Palmer Square West, and ask about those glasses. We refer to the spectacles made with triangular prisms for lenses.

These prisms are framed in heavy tortoise shell and you wear them when you are reading in bed. Lie flat on your back and hold the book well on your stomach, we suppose, and the prisms reflect the print right to your eye.

We tried them on when we were standing up and it was the darndest thing. An image leaped into view, clear and readable, as though we had pulled it from space. We still haven't quite figured out where it came from. To make a real test, we should have lain flat on the floor.

It was raining when we were in The Gift Shop. We mention this because they have an Aqua bonnet that's designed to protect ladies who are caught in the rain. It's a plastic rain hat that fits into a case no larger than a pocket comb case. When the sun comes out, you take off the bonnet, give its two strings a sudden snap and watch it replent itself to fit into the case. For $1.

Collectors of old cars will enjoy collecting demi-tasses, ash-trays, coasters and plates in good-looking white china with the cars painted in the center or on the sides. Dishes are gold-trimmed.

Water, Water, Everywhere. It's probably all the rain that's done it; at any rate, bathing suits are beginning to sprout and we found a pair of them at Bailey's, 14 Witherspoon. Both belong to sets. One tattersall has a terry jacket, lined in the check of the suit. A terry band edges the suit at bodice and leg.

Another suit, this one ruffled, comes in black and white or red and white check. It has a reversible terry coat, too, plus a bag of slippers to match. In this set, the suit is $8.95, the jacket, bag and slippers, $7.95.

Maternity clothes by the rack in this shop. Dungarees, either faded or navy, pedal pushers, shorts, plus all kinds of underwear, including a new maternity garter belt for only $1.95.

Here's a six-piece set (non-maternity) that will set you up for the whole summer: skirt, shorts, pedal pushers, blouse, bra and dress, to be bought separately or all together. They're crinkle-tone, in shades like chocolate with white, or navy, brown or grey. The hat is $1.95 and prices go on from there.

We liked a fine white cotton blouse, round collar with small gold or blue butterflies embroidered here and there, for $5.95. And some nylon hose, 66 gauge, 12 denier, for $1.95. These Spurgeon hose are apparently made on precision machinery and they wear very well indeed. The pair we saw had an outline heel and looked quite sleek.

Slip-Cover for a Bag. Summer pocketbooks at Luttmann's, 132 Nassau, have linen or beach-cloth slip-covers. You slide out the bag and throw the cover into the laundry. Each slip-cover has a white flower spray embroidered on the white background. Many styles, including shoulder bags, small or large envelopes and a draw-string. Prices from $3.60 to $6, including tax.

Or look at the rough straw box bag from Italy. A smaller box, in smooth straw, is domestic and so are other straw bags.

Here's the place to buy a Car-Sac, a clothing bag to hang in your car for long trips. Holds eight dresses or four men's suits. Men's plaid bags are $15, ladies' are $18. They fold crosswise at the middle for easy carrying when you get out of the car. Three sizes of swag-bags come in the same plaid, to match.

If you're flying, you can use Skyway luggage in six different sizes. Comes in light brown sharkskin, or a Coronation blue. Priced from $24 (tax included).

A double overtime defeat at Johns Hopkins Saturday has left the lacrosse team with the task of winning the rest this season if it is to stay in the running for the national title. The Bluejays, paced by Emil Budnitz' seven goals, won 15 to 11 after the Tigers had held a 6-4 margin at the half. Defenseman John Emery and goalie Cy Horine were injured, leaving the team in no condition to withstand the home forces' onslaught after they had gained a 10-all tie. Bo Willis' four goals led the losers.

Bad Weather, Good Start. Princeton teams, battling the cold, wet spring, are off to a surprisingly good start under such a handicap. Ten days in the southland helped the track forces round into form, and they now hold four victories in their first four meets. Rutgers (by 104-36) and Columbia (by 99-41) were the victims last week. The Penn Relays will draw a number of Tiger entries this weekend but the major target will be Yale in Palmer Stadium a week from Saturday.

The tennis team whipped Columbia, 9-0, with the loss of only a set for its 37th straight, but was rained out at West Point Saturday. The golfers, after beating Rutgers and Dartmouth, 4-3, lost to Georgetown by the same score, their first dual match defeat since 1953. (Another streak to end was that compiled by freshman lacrosse teams, which had not been beaten since 1949 until a 9-4 loss to Millburn Lacrosse Club on Poe Field Saturday.)

The horrendous total of 17 errors in its last three games has helped remove Navy's baseball team from competition in the Eastern League. The middies whipped Columbia in their opener but made five misplays against Army and six each against Princeton and Yale.

Fielding of this sort aided the Tigers in their 10-5 victory at Annapolis last week, but for a change they also helped their own cause with some solid hitting. Ten safeties—all singles—rattled off their hats as they buffeted three Navy hurlers hard enough to get into double figures in the run column for the first time since May, 1951.

Dick Emery was clipped for four first-inning runs, just as he was at Temple, but again he settled down to pitch great ball. After allowing four successive singles in the opening round, he gave up but one more in the next eight. Two errors in the gathering darkness permitted an unearned run in the ninth.

Captain Joe Golden paced the Nassau offense with three hits in four trips to the plate. Herky Parke banged out a pair, and Gordon Gray, who has replaced Pete Van Gytenbeek in the outfield, was among five other players who got one apiece. The Tigers had overcome the four-run deficit by the fourth and racked up four in a big sixth inning to scuttle the middies for good.

Stepp Honored. Completion of 25 years of coaching at Princeton brought Howie Stepp into the spotlight Saturday night when he was the guest at a surprise banquet at the Princeton Inn. A silver punch bowl, accompanied by tray, ladle and cups, was inscribed "from his old swimmers—in sincere appreciation and affection."

Stepp, who came here "on loan" from Yale in the middle of the 1928 season and remained to make Princeton his home, is now the University registrar as well as swimming coach. In the latter capacity, he has compiled an over-all won-lost average of .711—one of the highest in Princeton athletic history.
